Meaghan B Murphy

Known for her high-energy, upbeat personality and YAY lifestyle, Meaghan B Murphy is a longtime magazine editor, author, co-host of Off the Gram podcast, and an on-air TV personality as seen regularly on shows like Live with Kelly and Ryan, Today, Dr. Oz and Inside Edition. Currently the editor-in-chief of Woman's Day following 7 years as the Executive Editor of Good Housekeeping, Murphy recently released Your Fully Charged Life (Penguin-Random House), which Oprah Daily calls a book "that'll make you feel good at the turn of every page." Murphy also joined the fourth season of "Small Business Revolution" (Hulu) as its expert in building community spirit -- something she effectively does as Chief Spirit Officer of her own suburban town. A New Jersey native, Meaghan married her younger brother's best friend, Patrick, and together they live in Westfield (aka @bestfieldnj) with their three children and labradoodle Dempsey. When the certified trainer is not at the gym for 5AM workouts, she's busy decorating for all the holidays and coming up with MacGuyver-style life hacks.
